City of Chanute Fire Department - Chanute, Kansas
April 5, 2016

After much research and consultation with other departments in our area we chose All Hands Fire to purchase our Escape Systems. Along with this purchase, hands on training was provided in such a manner that all members of our department were competent and qualified in the use of the systems.

As a small 15 man department we were able to spend one day with Donald Colarusso and two qualified members of the Wichita Fire Department to receive our training. This training was provided in an extremely professional and safety conscience manner. Mr. Colarusso truly cares about each individual and their ability to perform each aspect adequately prior to his departure.

We would highly recommend All Hands Fire to other departments; professionalism and quality at its finest.
